

Free Support Classes Initiated by the CSR Department of Hindustan Power to Enhance Educational Standards in Project-Affected Rural Areas

Date: 20.12.24, Jaithari, Anuppur

Under the CSR initiatives of Hindustan Power, free support classes are being conducted across approximately 13 villages surrounding the power plant to improve educational standards. Around 400 children are benefiting from these classes, where they are taught not only academics but also yoga and Surya Namaskar.

The children expressed their gratitude, stating that they receive daily two-hour sessions covering vital subjects like English, Mathematics, and General Knowledge in an engaging manner. They also acknowledged the organization's efforts in providing desks and benches in their schools, which have made studying more convenient.

The CSR officials highlighted that around 800 students in 13 government schools in the area have been provided with desks and benches. Additionally, 400 children are being offered free support classes by experienced teachers, continuing the initiative from previous years. These efforts have significantly improved students' academic performance, with several securing admission to prestigious institutions like Navodaya Schools.

Mr. Sudhir Namdeo, the Headmaster of Government Primary School, Kyotar, expressed his gratitude, noting the consistent support from the CSR department in enhancing education in rural areas.

Rural women also appreciated the positive impact of these classes on their children's education and requested that the initiative be continued regularly. They thanked the organization's management for their ongoing efforts and support.
